

North Paris

—Eveline Barrett, Corres.—

It was a bit damp and foggy for Mother's Day. I hope all mothers were visited by their children and grandchildren.

The large honeysuckle bush by my kitchen window has been a busy place this week. Mother Robin worked all week to build a nest. It is about 12 inches deep on the outside, but not so deep inside. Another bird, small and gold colored has a nest in the same bush, about the size of an egg with the top cut off.

I noticed this week that some person has very kindly removed the plaque from the flag pole at the Community Hall. I can't see why anyone would want to take it. Raymond Tripp moved his family this week end to the Gibbs house.

John Estes Jr. is a surgical patient at Maine Medical hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Knauer, Mexico, brought a large box of plastic silverware to Eveline Barrett for use at Community Hall. It is much appreciated by the Club members.

I wonder if my friend, Eva Yates, Sunday River, noticed anyone walking on the moon this past week to cause such extremes in the weather. We sweated at 97° and the West had eight inches of snow.

Tuesday Evelyn Barrett was at Dr. Week's, South Paris, then took an envelope of medicine to her sister-in-law, Agnes Coffin, at Milton. Stopped at Everett Cole's store and got a coke and chatted a minute with Everett and Bob Scherf, and it was hot.

West Paris

—Mrs. Marian Chase, Corres.—

Mrs. Lula Buck visited Mrs. Marguerite Benson at Bridgton hospital Sunday.

There will be a food and rummage sale Saturday, May 19, from 9 a. m. - 12 noon, at the Fire Station, benefit of Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Libby of West Paris were honored at a 50th anniversary party on Sunday, April 29 at the West Paris Baptist Church. The affair was arranged by the daughters, Mrs. Geneva Kime and Mrs. Joyce Ellis. They were assisted by Mrs. Jean Tyner, the church members and friends.

A program of special music was presented by the church. Mrs. Libby was presented with a corsage of yellow roses and carnations, and Mr. Libby received a yellow carnation boutonniere. The church vestry was decorated with gold and white wedding bells. The refreshment table was decorated with a gold cloth overlaid with white lace. The centerpiece was of daisies and yellow carnations.

Punch was dipped by Mrs. Jean Tyner. The three tier gold and white anniversary cake was cut by Mrs. Lee Dean and Mrs. Jean Tyner. A money tree and other gifts were presented to the Libbys. The guest book was in charge of Cheryl Broberg. The Libbys both attended Hartford schools. They were married April 27, 1929, at Livermore, Maine. For many years they lived on a farm in Hartford near Bear Pond. Later they moved to West Paris where Mr. Libby retired as District Ranger after 32 years with the Forest Service. He built the home where they now live. Mrs. Libby's interests have been sewing, baking and growing lovely flowers. Mr. Libby's interests are hunting, fishing and his stamp collection. He is a member of Union Grange #80, East Sumner; Evening Star Lodge #147, Buckfield; Canton Fish and Game Protective Association; Hartford Historical Society; a life member of the National Rifle Association; Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War, and a deacon in the West Paris Baptist Church. Both are members of the Senior Citizens Group. The Libbys have seven grandchildren. At the head table were two cousins who had recently observed their 50th wedding anniversary. Guests attended from West Paris, Sumner, East Sumner, West Sumner, Mexico, Rumford, Auburn, Canton, North Paris, South Paris, Buckfield, Hartford, Norway, Gardiner, South Harpswell, East Peru, Brunswick and North Carolina.

A duet "In the Garden" was rendered by Charlotte Cole and Arline Farr with Lyndell Farr at the piano.

"Mother Macchree" was sung by Arline Farr and Richard Felt.

Paper was passed out by the assistants to the Mothers who scored themselves on several questions asked by the Lecturer. Points were given for each question asked. Eva Yates scored in the 400 plus so received a gift. Rose Milk lotion with a rose. More questions as the oldest mother, the youngest, the most children and the most grandchildren. Eva won three of these and the youngest mother was Althea Stevens.

The closing thoughts, being cute are being presented here for you to enjoy. 1. If at first you don't succeed—diet and diet again. 2. The only thing you can do about a poor memory is just forget about it. 3. He who gets too big for his britches will be exposed in the end.

Refreshments were served by Edith Hathaway and Rachel Mills. A Mothers Day cake was cut and served by the youngest mother present, Althea Stevens. Ice cream and other goodies were enjoyed by all.

Upton

— Mrs. Arline Bernier, Corres. —

Largesse restaurant appeared to be busy on Mother's Day as the yard was full of cars with one parked across the road.

Spring got squeezed between winter and summer. Events which usually come in sequence with a bit of overlap, came tumbling in like a flood.

Fred and I attended a retirement party for a cousin, Marjorie Grant, at the home of her sister, Gloria Lawry, in Farmington. Our sisters, Ruth Bailey and Lillian Abbott, and brother, Albert, were also present. It is the first time the five of us had been together in several years. Marjorie lives in South Portland and is the oldest daughter of Helen Cousineau of Phillips.

The mother and daughter banquet of Newry was very pleasant with about 50 ladies present. The speaker had slides of Upton, Can. They were mostly of parliament buildings or surroundings and the commentary was chiefly history and insight into the leaders and political events of Canada.

Dr. Barnes has been at his home here from time to time. He reports having a tough winter physically but feeling much better now.

Moose have been seen around town several times. Three at a time on Mill Road and one crossing Rt. 26 in town—or standing in the road.

Margaret Mitchell spent a few days in Sebago including Mother's Day as her family was having special events.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In the early days Bethel was divided into two parishes. Most of the population and business was in the East Parish, with the center at Middle Intervale. The first town meetings were held in private homes until the meetinghouse was built in 1816. When the meetinghouse was built, the reverence was shown. There was bitter rivalry between the two parishes; often it was suggested that there be two separate towns. At such meetings it was often necessary to halt the proceedings until the vestible could be cleared of those who had partaken too freely of "spirits." We have no record of the building ever having been used as jail but it may have been as that was the custom of the times. Many activities took place on the common. The stories most frequently retold were of muster day when the performance of the militia drills were not too soldierly. A little store beside the meetinghouse sold six gallons of rum for a dollar.

Around the middle of the nineteenth century a town house was built on the line between the two parishes, not far north of the Farwell Mt. road. Later with the coming of the railroad the village proper grew up on "Bethel Hill." A legend has come down to us that the tall steeple blew off the meetinghouse when it was sold at an auction and the Baptists outbid the Methodists by a dollar but there is no proof of this. A Baptist Society did use the building for many years and kept it in repair. The last major work was done in 1926 when Millard Clough painted and papered and Benjamin Kimball installed new windows. People died, moved away and the society faded away. Since then there has been no sustained interest in the spot and the exact status of the property has been a mystery. In 1971 a group of folk from the village and Middle Intervale worked very hard to make the building clean and safe for an open house held as part of Homecoming Days. Over 200 people attended.

Now the Middle Intervale Meetinghouse Society has been formed with the goal of restoring the building. An extensive title search has been made. Neither the State Baptist Society, nor any other group has any record of ownership. We found that Dr. Timothy Carter who came in 1799 to be the town's first doctor set aside a portion of his land to be used by the public for a "burying ground, a common and a meetinghouse." The town provided $200.00, pews were sold for $10.00 each, who gave the remainder of the cost of the building we know not. Our grandfather gave the M. I. Cemetery Assn. a deed to the "burying ground" in 1912, but since both he and our father died when we were very young children we knew nothing of the tradition that had been carried on over the years. The news that we had some legal claim to the common and the meetinghouse came as a surprise and a problem.

We have decided to relinquish all interests and to turn the property over to the Meeting House Society with the agreement that if it ever becomes necessary to raze the building that the M. I. Cemetery Assn. will take over the common. We hope by so doing that there will be no ambiguity ever again in the future, that we are carrying out the wishes of our ancestors and that the public good will be served. We wish to publicly thank Gordon Gillies, Dana Douglass Jr. and Peter Weeks for their help in many ways and we hope that you, the public, will join us in wishing the new society all success in their efforts to restore and maintain this historic landmark.

EVA MacLEOD ATTENDS DAUGHTER'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Eva MacLeod, who has been in the hospital for 5 1/2 weeks, after an automobile accident, came home to attend her daughter Heather's first birthday party on Saturday, May 12. Andrews' ambulance service volunteered to drive Eva to the home of Marianna and Dave Walton in West Paris, location of the party. Heather has been staying days with the Walton family since the accident.

Stephens Memorial Hospital wouldn't allow the children to come into the hospital to celebrate Heather's 1st birthday. So Eva began exploring possibilities to get out. To her surprise, Dr. Smith agreed with the leave from the hospital, providing she was properly supervised. The ambulance service was called and was too costly to consider for just a couple of hours out. Then Andrews volunteered their services for this special occasion. An added bonus, Eva got her three front teeth on Saturday morning just before coming out. Dr. Mason had already fitted her mouth and Eva came out of the hospital with a big smile full of teeth. Eva returned to the hospital around 3 p. m. where she will continue her recuperation and physical therapy.

Attending from out of town were John and Rose Consolo, Eva's parents, from Long Island, N. Y.; Ruth MacLeod, her husband David's mother, Quincy, Mass., and his sister, Sandra, and brother Scott, David, Wuori and Evelyn Wuori, David's aunt and uncle from Andover, with cousins, Lisa and Barbara.

Those attending were Grammie and Grampa Crockett, Aunt Gloria, Uncle David, Aunt Lorna and Cousin Kyle Crockett, Barbara and Marlene Patterson of Bethel, Grammie and Grampa Wakefield, Locke Mills, Ernest and Shirley Billings, South Rumford, Marshall and Florence, South Rumford, Schonen and Meghan Wing, Westbrook, and Marshall and Ryan Baker of Belgrade.

On Monday evening, May 14, Clinton had a second party at his home. Those attending were Grammie and Grampa Wakefield, Great Gram and Grampa Swan, Margery and Tom Swan, Locke Mills, Pam and Tom Howe, Lloyd and Arlene Lowell, Lester Cole and Scott Baker, Bethel.

Clinton received many nice gifts. A birthday cake made by his Grammie Crockett and ice cream were served.

Mrs. Reona Heino, Boothbay Harbor, visited her mother, Mrs. Besie Bean, this week.

Donna Brooks, UMO, and Marc Packard, Bryant College, Smithfield, R. I., spent the week end at their homes.

NOTES FROM THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
The Governor's Vacation-Travel Council has urged innkeepers, motel operators and campground owners to prepare "vacation packages" so that this summer tourists can be given a full vacation list of activities available in a given area so as to reduce unnecessary travel. The vacation guides for the Bethel Recreation Area, which should be available in June, are designed to accomplish this objective.

Area Map
In lieu of a revised Bethel brochure, the Chamber plans to print for early summer use a map of the area listing its business and associate members. If you are a business owner who has not yet joined the Chamber for 1979 and want your business listed on this map, please contact the secretary, Mrs. Louise Lincoln at 824-234

Out Fishin' Lyin' in a shady nook, Beside a dancin', bubblin' brook, Watchin' shadows round my hook, Out Fishin'.

Listenin' to the rain crow's cry, Watchin' clouds float in the sky Hearin' all the tall trees sigh, Out Fishin'.

Seein' sun shine through the trees, Listenin' to the hum of bees, Doin' anything I please, Out Fishin'.

Wakin', stretchin', yawnin' too, Oh! This is what I love to do, Out Fishin'.

BETHEL SAVINGS BANK ANNUAL MEETING

Boyd; Tellers, Harriett Purinton and Sarah Burbank Smith.
West Paris Branch: Assistant Treasurer and Manager, Vicky Myers; Tellers, Roberta Ross and Jan Bradeen.

Following the business meetings, Corporators and Trustees reunited with their guests for a social hour and a delicious dinner served by Saga Foods in the American Legion Hall facilities. This successful practice established several years ago enables the supervisory boards, the staff and employees to get together as a group and hear the report of the President, Raymond G. Moran, on the highlights of the past year's operation and the projections for the future. Mr. Moran announced that the bank had one of the largest growth records of any mutual in the State for the past year. This was the result of careful planning which made funds available to borrowers throughout the year when loan demands were high. Commenting on the year ahead, he said that economists are generally agreed that the country is facing a recession but that there is no unanimity among them on the time and seriousness of this recession. He characterized the months ahead as a "wait and see" period and concluded that policy will need to be determined by developing circumstances.
